Everywhere I hear my name
Makes me slightly go insane
Like I just can't play this game
People try to block my way
Narrow-minded call me names
No I just can't stay the same

Sometimes I wonder
What's the reason for it all
The earth is filled with fools
Who want to see me fall
But there's something
Something telling me

Listen to the magic infinity
Listen to the voice of your heart
Living in a world
You're not living in
Try to see from afar
(Try to see) how meaningless they are

Furtive vultures fly my way
Twisting every word I say
Begrudging me the light of day
I never knew there's so much hate
In every country - every state
No wonder world-peace must wait

Barefoot I walk through all
The splinters in my soul
Why don't I realise
They don't hurt at all
'Cause there's someone
Someone telling me

[Chorus]

Can't you see that deep inside
We're all the same
Why don't you see
This heat can take the fire away

All away

Everyone in every way
Try to lose your sense of shame
Life is just a game

Listen to the magic infinity
Listen to the voice of your heart
Living in a world
You're still living in
Try to see from afar
(Try to see) how meaningless we are

(Infinity) - listen to the magic infinity
Listen to the voice of your heart
Living in a world
Try to see from the stars
(Try to see) how meaningless we are
