The look on your face tells me where you've been
And every time you walk out of that door
I act a fool to let you back in

You're not the only one makin' plans
Before I get burned you need to understand
There'll be some pain, some shame

Now something went wrong that I didn't see
Even someone who was out of their mind
Couldn't even have mercy on me

I'm not gonna take the blame
What made you decide that we didn't need a thing?
But some pain, some shame

Now something went wrong that I didn't see
Even someone who was out of their mind
Couldn't even have mercy on me

Hangin' around cryin' ain't part of my plans
I'm gonna see you on the witness stand
There'll be some pain, some shame
Man, I mean some pain, some shame
