Loving you was always a cost
That I never bought till we started drifting apart
Now I know the love that you give
Is something that I've got to kiss

Got to make comeback
To your heart

I realize, the love light is lost
There's no greater cross to bear
Than the pain of a broken heart
Now I know that I've got to pay, every night and day

Got to make comeback
To your heart

Now, girl, oh, when you say, baby
Here's where it ends can't we just be friends?
And I, oh, I have to make a new start
Oh, the love and that pain, trying to win your love back again

Got to make comeback
To your heart
Got to make comeback
