All the will in the world
All the will in the world
All the will in the world
Do it
All the will in the world
All the will in the world
Start with introductions, something in her glance
Sets your heart aflutter
Makes you want to take a chance
Maybe she's the right one, like the only girl in all the world

All the will in the world

When you meet that someone, try with all your might Don't give up so easy, love is really worth the fight
Tenderness and passion
Keep romance alive around the world

Give the girl a little love and understanding
You get going when the going gets tough
Keep it up now or love will leave you standing
Keep loving cos you'll never get enough

Keep fighting for your true love
With the best will in the world
Reach out for the stars above
With the best will in the world

Lovers' expectations reach out to the stars
Everything they dreamt of right there in each others arms
They've just got to make it yeah
With all the will in all the world
All the will in the world

After all you've been through, since you got this far
Now the dust has settled, have you really won her heart?
How do you compare to
All the other lovers in the world?

Take a little time to iron out a difference
Don't let your temper get in your way
You got to count to ten and exercise some patience
A little understanding goes a long long way

Keep fighting for your true love

With the best will in the world
Reach out for the stars above
With the best will in the world

Start with introductions, something in her glance
Sets your heart aflutter
Makes you want to take a chance
Maybe she's the right one, like the only girl in all the world

You never knew, till love came looking for you
You thought that you'd never find it
Now that she's here
Now there's no doubt that it's true
Now it's for real
Now you can win with, all the will in the world

All the will in the world
All the will in the world
All the will in the world
All the will in the world
All the will in the world
Can move a mountain
All the will in the world
Can make you satisfied
All the will in the world
Something to count on
All the will in the world
Take life in your stride
All the will in the world

Keep fighting for your true love
With the best will in the world
Reach out for the stars above
With the best will in the world

Keep fighting for your true love
With the best will in the world
Reach out for the stars above
With the best will in the world

Keep fighting for your true love
With the best will in the world
Reach out for the stars above

With the best will in the world

Keep fighting for your true love

With the best will in the world

Reach out for the stars above

With the best will in the world
