Out in the wild, deep in the woods there's a place.
Where all the lonely people hold their hearts.
And wait for a song or a voice that will finally know their name.

Where is love when it's needed most?
Did it burn away the moment we all looked away?
Envy waits for those days when it rains.
When it rains.

Cross every desert, swim every ocean we can find.
Search for a gentle face that can heal this misfits mind.
And in time we'll believe.

That there's a reason to everything.
Where is love when it's needed most?
Did it burn away the moment we all looked away.
Envy waits for those days when it rains.
When it rains.

Who's to say we'll never find our way?
Who's to say these misfits won't find the way?
Where is love when it's needed most?
Did it burn away the moment we all looked away?
Envy waits for those days when it rains.
When it rains.
When it rains...
