Oh love, I heard on the news that the world would be ending real soon, real soon so I, I wanted to see if you'd sit with me and watch it all burn away

Don't mind the silence, everything's, everything's
burned away
I'll try to save you, even though all things must end,
must end.

Isn't this hell? well I ain't the man you used to hold and share deep deep breaths with Well I cut his neck and left him to die so his last breath would be not a beg, but a whimper.

Don't mind the silence, everything's, everything's
burned away
I'll try to save you, even though all things must end,
must end.

Don't mind the silence, everything's, everything's
burned away
I'll try to save you, even though all things must end,
must end.
Even though all things must end,
Even though all things must end.
