Rest your bones,
I am feeling weak again so please rest with me.
I dare not ask who's been helping you fall asleep,
oh honey.

I'm so tense, gasoline machines can't save me now.
Is this how you get what you want?
Cause I'd give you everything
And I could be destructive too.

I'll do anything you make me do. And I can be the one who brings this down. No, please don't make me, please don't make me.

Change is coming, yes it's on its way to make things
fair,
And I'm colliding with the space you're making.
Oh honey now I'm afraid that this is way, this is the way you're gonna be. And I could be destructive too.

I'll do anything you make me do. And I can be the one who brings this down. No, please don't let me, please don't let me.

I'll hunt the hands that took my place, and hang them on the wall so high. I'll make this fair if it's what you want.
I dare not ask, I dare not ask for more.
