Strawberry eyes, look inside so easy.

We're trying too hard, to hold together all the things that won't break.

Nobody knows, what went to our veins.

Let's quit wasting time, and prove to the world we've learned to walk through the flames.

Watch it burn,

Let's not care what anyone says,

Let's not care what yesterday wastes,

All that really matters now, is the escape.

In our sleep,

Let's pretend tomorrow will bring,

Hope, that makes the darkest heart sing,

We will escape, We will escape.

Strawberry eyes, looking down so carelessly.

I know you are tired, but deep in my skin, i know some day we'll find peace.

Watch it burn,

Let's not care what anyone says,

Let's not care what yesterday wastes,

All that really matters now, is the escape.

In our sleep,

Let's pretend tomorrow will bring,

Hope, that makes the darkest heart sing,

We will escape, We will escape.

Strawberry eyes look inside so easily.

Just for your sake, i hope someday we'll see what all this was for.

Watch it burn,

Let's not care what anyone says,

Let's not care what yesterday wastes,

All that really matters now, is the escape.

In our sleep,

Let's pretend tomorrow will bring,

Hope, that makes the darkest heart sing,

We will escape, We will escape.
