Oh I got a problem
Rising deep from my bones
Years of hibernation
I can't wait to be exposed
Leaping from the darkness
To feel the new moon and light
It howls like a jet plane and echoes through the night

Oh now you done it
You woke up some stuff
We don't have to talk about it
Round here things might get rough
You poked a sleeping giant
That ain't ate in months
And when it opens it's eyes
First thing it's gonna wanna do

Welcome to joint (?)
Welcome to my room
I'm no longer boy
And you're much stronger, girl (?)
I'm not barracuda
And you're my Thundercat
And we're at war
We're at war with no compass or map
No compass or map

No boundary fences, no ceilings or doors
No blanks or denials
Just shrieks and unheard roars
No emergency numbers
You went and planted?
No bell to guide you
Just blue, black, and stars
Wrapped us in angry earth
Manipulated your heart
Under high fortress sky
Til undiscoverd you died

Welcome to my oyster
Don't you touch my pearl
I used to be your (?)
And you used to be my squirrel
Now I'm barracuda
And you're Thundercat
And we're at war
We're at war with no compass or map
No compass or map

I got respect for my enemy
In the shadows they lie
In the shadows we live
And in the shadows we cry
In the fashion of virtue
Is now a hopeless appeal
Cause love is core side to side (?)
That you can't keep what you steal
You can't keep what you steal

Welcome to my Milky
You can't change my universe
The things that won't last
We always seem to put first
Now I'm Mt Olympus
You're baby (?)
We could end this war
We could end this war
We could end this war
We don't need no
We don't need no
We don't need no compass or map
We don't need nobody
All we need is you and me
We'll work it out, baby
