Love is patient, love is blind
Never jealous, love is kind
If my love is really true
Why can't I be that way with you?

It's easier said than done, easy to talk that talk
How long will I run till I walk that walk?
It ought to be so easy to love someone
But it's easier said than done

My loving words sound so good
But am I only saying what I think I should?
To make it real or whether there's just one way
I'm gonna have to prove it everyday

And it's easier said than done, easy to talk that talk
How long will I run till I walk that walk?
It ought to be so easy to love someone
But it's easier said than done

Once again love conquers all
And here I am with my back to the wall
It shouldn't be so hard for me to do
To drop my guard and surrender to you

But it's easier said than done, easy to talk that talk
How long will I run till I walk that walk?
It ought to be so easy to love someone
But it's easier said than done

Baby, we gotta know by now how to love someone
But it's easier said than done
