We could talk it out all night
Till the morning light
Oh, and still not get it right

We could call it by a name
Find a place to lay the blame
Oh, and still end up the same

We could go down that road, baby
Over and over again
Even though we know
The circle never ends

That's enough about me
That's enough about you
What are we gonna do?

Talking about love
Talking about us
What are we gonna do?

When the morning comes
When all is said and done
Will I still be your only one?

Will the light shine in your eyes?
Ever pure and ever bright
From the fire, oh, that never dies

Are we gonna stay lost on the back road
Unable to make it through
Always worried about
Who's done what to who

That's enough about me
That's enough about you
What are we gonna do?

Talking about love
Talking about us
What are we gonna do?

Yeah, talking about love
I'm talking about us
What are we gonna do?

That's enough about me
That's enough about you
Now what are we gonna do?
