"Expecting Your Love"

Visit "Expecting Your Love" on MotoLyrics.com

All my life I've wanted your love
Travelled all over the world looking for your love
Your love would free me from my darkest pain
If you loved me I would never have had you there to blame
All my life I've wanted your love

All my life I've asked for your love
Travelled all over the world asking for your love
In the faces of strangers I would think that I saw
Someone who could see me and accept every flaw
All my life I've asked for your love

Time to stop expecting your love
Travelled all over the world expecting your love
Always in so much pain you never noticed me
The way that I long for it to be will never be
Time to stop expecting your love
Time to stop expecting your love
