"Days Without You"

Tonight, I learned not to trust myself
Alright, but I can't go back to change
What I am right now, and I need to stay the same

Back the days, from the past until today
I stood alone, and I've waited for something new
The blames I laid, and all the time I needed to push you away
The broken bones, and all the time I spent to make things true
But it just doesn't seem right without you, not at all

No frights, no surprises because I'll regret
Twilight, until then I'll try to forget
Because what I am now, is something I don't need to know
And somehow, something makes me stay and show

If there's anything that makes me special
If there's something I have that you don't
And I can't show that something, and that's why
I want to throw myself, before I even try

Something, that something makes me feel
If only you were here, you can tell if that something's real
You're the only thing that can make this true
In these days without you

Tonight, I learned not to trust myself
Alright, I've just realized how to live alone
What am I right now, needs to wait for someone like you

Back the days, from the past until today
I stood alone, and I've waited for something new
The blames I laid, and all the time I needed to push you away
The broken bones, and all the time I spent to make things true
But it just doesn't seem right without you, not at all

And that's why I try so hard (I try so hard)
But I can't forget, all the regrets (all the regrets)
Because someday, I'll believe that you'll come back
Embrace my world in joy, take away what's black
I can't push you away, from yesterday
I can't show my something to you

Something, that something makes me feel
If only you were here, you can tell if that something's real
You're the only thing that can make this true
In these days without you

Something, that something makes me feel (I can't show it)
If only you were here, you can tell if that something's real
You're the only thing that can make this true (Make me true)
In these days without you

Can you make me true?
Because tonight, I'll wait for you
For someone to tell me that something

Something, that something makes me feel
If only you were here, you can tell if that something's real
You're the only thing that can make this true
In these days without you
