Sleepy, but I'm not gonna' lay down there
Feel proud, although I have nothing there to share
I'll be there got myself going crazy
Nothing shares what makes this all go lazy
Never did I, look at the time
And became so afraid
I can't stop, not tonight

Stay awake all night long
My father told me when I was young
Dreams don't last
They're left in pasts
They fade before you forget
Your shade that you hate and regret
They're all just a dream, it'll soon disappear

Tonight, it's going to be better than, better more
Behold, I haven't known anything like this, not before...
I'll be there not knowing myself
Nothing shares what makes this be under shelves
Never did I, look at the moon
And became so enjoyed
I can't take, this smile away
(From myself, from my face, yeah...)

Stay awake all night long
My father told me when I was young
Dreams don't last
They fade before you forget
Your shade that you hate and regret
They're all just a dream, it'll soon disappear

Everything will be gone
When we will lose the sun
But this smile won't be away
Never away, never disappeared
Only dreams don't last a day
