I should've known
That I can't own
This monster problem

When I think I am done
Another one has begun
I'm sick of this...

Well, here it goes again before you know it
And here it goes again, well I've gotta admit
That I'm repeating the same mistake
I've done all that I can take,
But
Here it goes again

I could've learned
When to be concered
That you're done

When I think I've got a hold
It starts again until it's old
Will this ever end...

Well, here it goes again before you know it
And here it goes again, well I've gotta admit
That I'm repeating the same mistake
I've done all that I can take,
But
Here it goes again

When things go again
There's nothing you can gain
But still repeatin' pain
But when try those things again
There's not much to complain
And all your misery will abstain
And here it goes again

Well, here it goes again before you know it
And here it goes again, well I've gotta admit
That I'm repeating the same mistake
I've done all that I can take,

But
Here it goes again
