What I say, forget it
All the days, forget them
Anything that I've left behind
Take hold on all regrets in mind

Memories don't come back at instant
I will need to wait for you to come back
With the forgotten time
Nothing left, for me, for you

What I do, forget it
My heart for you, forget it
Anything that I've left behind
Take hold on all regrets in mind

Memories don't come back at instant
I will need to wait for you to come back
With the forgotten time

So now, that I can see
All my pretty lies
They were made of
Little bits of my weak mind
And a lot of the things that I have left behind

(So now, let me say anything
That I forgot to say to you before
Keep on track, don't come back
It's just a lie, but you won't come back anyway)

Anything that I've left behind
Take hold on all regrets in mind

Memories don't come back at instant
I will need to wait for you to come back
With the forgotten time

(So now, let me say anything
That I forgot to say to you before
Keep on track, don't come back
It's just a lie, but you won't come back anyway)
