I've admit my lies, I hope that helps me
If not, these days weren't meant to be
So long, it's not gonna' let me go...

I don't accept your obvious lies
But I don't care my unfaithful lies
They don't make sense do they...

If I can, I'll change right now (Change right now)
Before I run, I'll say goodbye (Say goodbye)
It might not worth a dime for you
But can you still make the time for me
Just to say this, that this ended up so obvious

You've let me go, it's never gonna' hurt now
But still, it didn't change anything at all
Don't come along, it's not gonna worth your time

I don't understand your obvious mind
But I'd only looked at myself once again
It was nothing for you, aren't they...

If I can, I'll change right now (Change right now)
Before I run, I'll say goodbye (Say goodbye)
It might not worth a dime for you
But can you still make the time for me
Just to say this, that this ended up so obvious

It was never my intention, can you let me go
Don't need to pay the redemption, it was nothing

I know I can't, but I'll try to change (Try to change)
Before I say so, I'll need to say goodbye (Say goodbye)
It might not worth a dime for you
But can you still make the time for me
Just to say this, that this ended up so obvious
Just to say this, say that, say that this ended up so obvious
