Red is for my love to you
Blue is for you upsky
Green is for the falling leaves
White is for the empty conversations
And black is for when I'll lose you

Red is for my bleeding heart
Blue is for my feelings then
Green is for those flowers
White is for the times we've left
And black is for when you'll lose me
Oh rainbows, oh rainbows
How it's so in the pattern so...

Red is for our bad blood
Blue is for our time in seas
Green is for your pretty eyes
White is for where we started
And black was where we left the road

We didn't make it, any clear
Everything was there, before it disappeared
I was the wrong one, you're as well
From the times of grace to the living hell
You'll soon see, what you've done to me
I'll be waiting here for both of us there to be Wrong as us
Wrong as them
Wrong as those places colorless

Red is for my love to you
Blue is for you upsky
Green is for the falling leaves
White is for the empty conversations
And black is for when I'll lose you
Oh rainbows, oh rainbows
How it's so in the pattern so...
