"Piled On The Agony"

I'm piled on the agony
Trying to get rid of misery
It'll never end this tragedy
For another sad history

There is no more rivalry
But we don't have an unity
Ever since the hope's hazy
Every single one became so lazy

Black and white, everyone lost their allegory
Now they're mad they'll never have their contributory
And they're angry (They're angry)
You were too late to save me
You stopped and stood to see
A falling me, and a silent you

I'm piled on the agony
Trying to get rid of misery
It'll never end this tragedy
For another sad history

There is no more rivalry
But we don't have an unity
Ever since the hope's hazy
Every single one became so lazy

Keep this in mind
Until you go blind
From the truth to be told
The story's never old
For every word I'm about to sell
I'll put you in through hell
