I stayed here until you found me
I can't lie to you
No more love, trust nor acception
I can't stand up
This is how you left me down on the ground
Wordless, breathless and I'm just hopeless
I can't stand up, and you said I'll understand
That I need to prepare the ground for another one
Don't try to touch me, you're gonna' let me down

I know life was meant to be unfair
Every day I wake up with a nightmare
I know love risks a broken heart
Every day is an end to another start
If anything would change my mind
If I could, I'll be well, I'll be a bit more kind

I can't stand up anymore, I'm wordless
But don't touch me, even if I'm breathless
I can't stand on my ground, even if I'm hopeless
And you tell me to prepare the ground for another one
When you know there's no understanding
When I can't even stand up

I know I might be wasting my days
I know I might be killing every other way
I know I can never be like you
I can't be cruel, I can't be a fool, I need to tell the truth
Half a hour and I can stand up again
Find a starting point and then begin

I can't stand up anymore, I'm wordless
But don't touch me, even if I'm breathless
I can stand on my ground, even if I'm hopeless
And you tell me to prepare the ground for another one
When you know there's no understanding
When I can't even stand up

A little bit kinder
A little bit nicer
Why can't I be?
A little but stronger

A little but braver
Why can't I be?
Why can't I be me?

I can stand up anytime, I can speak
Don't touch me, I'm not weak
I can stand on my own ground, I can seek
And you tell me, but I won't do
And you tell me, but I won't do
When you know there's no understanding
And now I can stand

I'm not like before, I'm not
I can't stand up anymore, I'm wordless
But don't touch me, even if I'm breathless
I can't stand on my ground, even if I'm hopeless
And you tell me to prepare the ground for another one
When you know there's no understanding
When I can't even stand up

I'm not like before, I'm not
I can't stand up anymore, I'm wordless
But don't touch me, even if I'm breathless
I can't stand on my ground, even if I'm hopeless
And you tell me to prepare the ground for another one
When you know there's no understanding
When I can't even stand up
Maybe you should prepare your ground!
