You know it easy, but it always ends so hard
You find yourself breezy, but you know you're just a disregard
When you see, when you knew it felt as if you're born to be
Because, I'm only going to say this one more time
When you realize that you won't be payed for crime
I find it easy, but I never really try
It was just a matter of time back then, now I don't know why
All I know is when it ends with some loneliness

No one will see, what I am
And I won't be, what you want
Whatever I do, you have a complain
Every time it sues, I need to explain
(Start again, start again! )
When I need it, and it's gone
When I find it, and it's done
It ends with confidence
I don't know why, but
I have no evidence
Do I still need to claim?
I'm not right anymore, unlike before
I used to stay alone, but I let my heart win
I can't go on my own, and they call it a sin
I want to stop now, I know I'm wrong
Why not stop, when I can come along?
Cried through nights, but I still sing this song

I've forgotten, what I used to be
I've forgotten, the times I could see
I've forgotten, to be
(I still wait for the time to runaway
I still wait for the time to runaway
It's just my fate to the crime of what I've said)

I knew the best, except it was never trusted
You said no to one more thing, and I needed to (Solo)
But now I've realized that it does not matter
It's all of (Self confidence for a time to look down

A bit of cockiness when she comes around
Evermore of cautiousness for when to stop
And, some less of ignorance to carry on)

No one will see, what I am
And I won't be, what you want
Whatever I do, you have a complain
Every time it sues, I need to explain
(Start again, start again! )
When I need it, and it's gone
When I find it, and it's done
It ends with confidence
I don't know why, but
I have no evidence
Do I still need to claim?
I'm not right anymore, unlike before
I used to stay alone, but I let my heart win
I can't go on my own, and they call it a sin
I want to stop now, I know I'm wrong
Why not stop, when I can come along?
Cried through nights, but I still sing this song

I've forgotten, what I used to be
I've forgotten, the times I could see
I've forgotten, to be
(I still wait for the time to runaway
I still wait for the time to runaway
It's just my fate to the crime of what I've said)

I've forgotten, why I'm here
I've forgotten, where to go
But I go, I go to see again
(I still wait for the time to runaway
I still wait for the time to runaway
It's just my fate to the crime of what I've said)

Everything in it's confidence
Everyone made of disregard
Before you know it may be hard
Whenever you need it, it'll stop your loneliness
You'll complain for the ignorance
I'll explain that this is evanescence
(I'll runaway, runaway, runaway! )
