(Trust me, me, me, me
Trust me, me, me, me)

Now you've chosen something wrong
Something heartbreaking, we can't come along Cause' you've misplaced your trust to him (to him, to him, to him)
And we all know we can't restore our trust

Trust me, me, me, me
Trust me, me, me, me
Can't you see, everything moving around
It can't be, you're trusting him, you'll soon see
But when you come back, I won't be there

Now I'm just a pain to live
Nothing goes and nothing comes to shift Cause' I've misplaced my trust on you (on you, on you, on you)
And we all know we can't restore out trust

[Solo]

I saw you taking the best smile with him
It's you to decide, so what do I do?
I can't take it watching every step
Every step that I claim, that I claim that's wrong
Then I'll leave you, as your wildest dreams come true Soon, just another day would, would change this all, all, all, all

Trust me, me, me, me
Trust me, me, me, me
Can't you see, everything moving around
It can't be, you're trusting him, you'll soon see
But when you come back, I won't be there
I'll never come back, I'll never look back
At the shadows following me, until I see
