Where have we come to
Every minute without you,
Is more than I can take.

So much left unsung
It's all inside my head.
It's hurting me more and more everyday,
Far more than anything you could say.

Broken promises, broken hearts.
We fell in love then broke apart.

Your apart of me like no ones ever been.
Gave me the love I bleed for,
The love I thrive to feel for.

There's so much, unsung
It's all inside my head.
It's hurting me more and more everyday,
Far more than anything you could say.

Giving up on all we've over come.
It used to be us against the world,
In a constant war that was almost won.

So much left, unsung
It's all inside my head.
It's hurting me more and more everyday,
Far more than anything you could say.
