

Rock House! "Untitled"

Visit "Untitled" on MotoLyrics.com

It's already been a year
And I still won't meet you here
Don't forget, I'll always remember
It was a lonely year, since that December
I took what I had, and I threw it away
I didn't feel sad, for whatever they say

If it's not here anymore
Maybe I can stop wasting my time on you
I have a future, you have yours too
We can't come together, like we did before
I'll turn around a time or two
And erase a couple memories
If it helps me take my mind from you

I don't know why, I need to cry
Or why I have to take a sigh
It's been a year, what was wrong?
You're not here, but I can sing this song
To trick myself into worlds with you
Now I've found someone else new

It's not here anymore
I can't have you anymore
I have a time, and I need to go through
All the time, even if it hurts more

I don't know why, I need to cry
Or why I have to take a sigh
It's been a year, what was wrong?
You're not here, but I can sing this song
To trick myself into worlds with you
Now I've found someone else new

It's been a year, you're not here
I look up there, don't try to care
I'm with her, I can't have you

Visit Rock House! page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

