"Why Bother"

One more time, now rougher
You bring me down with your heartbeat
Nothing will start after the end

Now it's over, let me ask a question
Luck with clover, won't sustain perfection
I have my pride, I can't always be on the bright side

One more time, now softer
You bring me done with one more cluster
Nothing will end before the start
Nothing will start after the end

Now it's over, let me ask a question
Luck with clover, won't sustain perfection
I have my pride, I can't always be on the brightside

Why bother, it's over
Why bother, it's over
Why bother, because it's over
Can't we start again?

One more time, now softer
You bring me done with one more cluster
Nothing will end before the start
Nothing will start after the end

Why bother, it's over
Why bother, it's over
Why bother, because it's over
Can't we start again
As if nothing ever happened to us
Why bother, it's over
Why bother, we're free now
Why bother, it's over
Why bother, it's done now
Look at me, let me ask you
Why bother?
