If I could steal your very Big Ideal vocabulary
I would use your words not mine
Cause sneaky synonyms
Escape my brain as I begin to Describe you through my eyes
How can I express this mess of thoughts that never quit
I begged my brain to make it plain and it said...
... you are just a little bit
A little bit more than beautiful
A little more hot than Rock-n-Roll
You're A little more sweet than a midnight tweet
On secret love that you share with me
You're a little bit more than my best friend
A little more nerd than your words pretend
You're a little more true than the sky is blue
I couldn't wish for any more than You
If I could travel through
This song just to be near to you then
I hope you'd play it everyday
We could act like jerks
And launch illegal fireworks
Cause no cop can lock this love away
Shot out of the dark we see a spark light up the sky
But sonic booms can't fill the room like the light in your eyes.
It's clear you are
A little bit more than beautiful
A little more hot than Rock-n-Roll
You're a little more sweet than a midnight tweet
On secret love that you share with me
A little bit more than my best friend
A little more nerd than your words pretend
You're a little more true than the sky is blue
I couldn't wish for anymore than
You are the onion ring in my large fry
That line was really dumb but at least I try
If my lyrics fail
I'll try the minor scale
Even though you're a major key to my heart
