Cross my heart and hope to catch
A shooting star that I can stretch
And pull it as big as the sun
Cause there's a lot of wishing to be done
By me like I wish that you'd never leave Reality is so good
Crazy dreams can't capture the feelings
That I share with you on this bright avenue
Magazines can't capture the beauty
that I see in your eyes my real paradise is you
When I was young my summer times
Were full of dreams that I would find A princess who I could save Cause I knew that my love was brave
When I first held your hand I got to understand Reality is so much better
Crazy dreams can't capture the feelings
That I share with you on this bright avenue
Magazines can't capture the beauty
You are more than what imaginations can pretend

Storybooks can't describe the sweetness (value) of the girl who I have by my side

Crazy dreams can't capture the feelings

That I share with you on this bright avenue

Magazines can't capture the beauty

You're what storybooks can't describe.
