slide you feet create the shock touch another watch it pop live a little, live a lot and show me everything you've got cause it takes some time and just a little bit of good reality wont hurt well, longer than it should just talking bout

hey now don't stare face the fact
don't act like you don't care cause you gotta stop and show it just so i know you know it maybe just a little bit oh come on admit it right now cause i know that it wont be over til its gone so let it be gone

i know you're scared
but let your words destruct you gotta take that step, and your heart, just let it pour out.

now i know its hard to be something that you don't think you are oh but its hard for me to even try understarnd why you aren't beating your own heart cause you gotta try just try to be honest and i will be honest

all these things i say

now listen clear whether break you're modest, I'm here dont hold back,
don't hesitate,
don't disappear.

you gotta take that step and your heart, just let it pour out.
and show me everything you got
but its time for you to stop you gotta take that step and your heart, just let it make sound.

and don't let your past begin to let you down just sing it out
just let it make sound and as will heard it will be healed and found cause its normal that emotional pasts can spot emotionless dads mothers and nations flags just show your face

no dont be afraid
to show your face

after all these things ive learned bout things i do and don't deserve can easily just shape my life and shape the way i start to die

no
cause its up to me if i dwell much longer than i should and i hold my tears for years thinkin' its doing me good just start right now just make a vow
you'll let your heart just sing it out sing it out

but let your words disrupt you gotta take that step in your heart just let it pour out.

you gotta take that step in your heart just let it make sound.
