"Coat Of Arms"

Pale the mighty ripple that falls down on me in the evening
I'll soon be at the end of a long list of feelings
That I keep holding onto
Looking back
Wondering how on earth will my heart stay intact

If it's never going to be easy Pale the weight of a heart
Who gonna help these hands
Cover the place I stand
Compared to all the strength you impart
And cover me in arms
In a coat of arms I'll wear
Pale the weight of a heart
Who's gonna keep me standing
Keep me standing strong
Compared to all the strength you impart
Safe outta reach from harm
To face the things gone wrong

Seems to me it's life that never moves along like I think it should Then again it's too much thinking that's never done me good
So I keep building onto
This house of mine
That I carry with me
Almost, almost all the time And if it's never going to be easy

(Chorus)
Strength is all I need
(Chorus)
