Forest woods, they knew to chop off his right arm
They said it did him harm, losing all his charm
He stays awake and looks at branches painted green
As if he needed peace, counting all the leaves

The screaming of the mad machines
Come at night into the dreams
Oh my, no more, beautiful sunsets
Whisper, whisper, words of prayer
Fight the spirits in the void
Flip two dead eyes open
Sun shines, sun dies, who's heart is broken?

The trees are happy they can stay there in the wind
Learning to give in, confessing to the sin
Recycled paper saving most of forest's aunts
Finding the solution to the life of those poor plants

Life inside the evergreen
The search for new dimensions
Oh my, no more, beautiful sunsets
Whisper, whisper, words of prayer
Fight the spirits in the void
Flip two dead eyes open
Sun shines, sun dies, who's heart is broken?

Let yourself out of this trip
Acting like a lunatic
It's time to carry on...

Whisper, whisper, words of prayer
Fight the spirits in the void
Flip two dead eyes open
Sun shines, sun dies, who's heart is broken?
