I can still see your face
But I still can't explain
U were there so suddenly
And as you walked away from me
I knew that we were meant to be

Holding on to my hope
But I've just got to know
Will you do what it takes?

From the mountains to the seas
Across the miles of memories
Through the endless dark
SaY you'll walk the distance to my heart
Past the walls of fear and pride
To a place where love can't hide
Searching for a spark
Say you'll walk the distance to my heart

Maybe times we lose track and have
To fight our way back (yeay)
But even more than before
We know what we're reaching for
You're my date with destiny
And whatever goes wrong
Got to keep holding on
I got to do what it takes

From the mountains to the seas
Across the miles of memories
Through the endless dark
Say you'll walk the distance to my heart
Past the walls of fear and pride
To a place where love can't hide
Searching for a spark
Say you'll walk the distance to my heart
(say you'll walk the distance to my heart)

I can still see your face
Like an angel in time and place
Got to turn every stone
Take every road

Got to keep holding on
Got to do what it takes

From the mountains to the seas
Across the miles of memories
Through the endless dark
Say you'll walk the distance to my heart
(say you'll walk the distance)
Past the walls of fear and pride
To a place where (ooh) love can't hide
Searching for a spark
Say you'll walk the distance to my heart (Oooohh)
