I see your smile wearing
The glow around you getting
And I never know just when
To come and when to go
Envy me? I envy you
Sin with me never against me
Take your bullet feel your vein
Pulsate through my head insane

Are you strong enough to break the world in two?

I see your smile wearing thing
That glow around you makes me feel

And I never know just when
You want me to say
Feels like everytime I bend
Im breaking for nothing
I need you to help me
Without you I can't breathe

Are you strong enough to break the world in two?

And now you've gone away
Right in front of me
But still out of reach
Our worlds they go unwilling
