When I saw you I knew you were the one
I want to orbit you like you're the sun
But let me know before I come undone
Am I the one for you

I'm like a puzzle with a missing piece
I got a car but didn't get the keys
And only you can set my mind at ease
So what am I to do

I have everything but the girl I want, it's sad but true
And everything but the love I need to make it through
And everytime I look into your eyes, that's when I realize
Just how much I love you

Some say lady luck is on my side
And that my life has been an easy ride
But they don't know how many times I cried
Cause I'm nothing without you

I have everything but the girl I want, it's sad but true
And everything but the love I need to make it through
And everytime I look into your eyes, that's when I
Just how much I love you

I don't know how long I can keep it up
I need a sign to make it through
You gotta tell me now, you gotta let me know
So what am I, what am I to do...ohh baby

I have everything but the girl I want, it's sad but true
And everything but the love I need to make it through
And everytime I look into your eyes, that's when I
Just how much I love you
