You gotta like that
You gotta feel the same way too
Girl you know that I'm in this too
When you left me here
Dealing with them tears
Time has changed us
But still I only care

I don't even know what to say
Broken by the games that you play
Now I'm starting to fall apart by the way
That you never look me in the eyes
Feels like you're always in disguise
Open up 'cause I have nothing more to say

Come on baby tell me why
Why all your love was all a lie
You got my love you got me good
Played my heart I can't deny
I thought that you was something good
To run away I knew I should
Day in and out I scream out loud
I break and shout but you don't hear me

You gotta stay strong
This time I love you you feel that
You don't have to but I miss you baby boo
Well my love is too strong
And I can't carry on without you without you without you

Even if I I don't even know what to say
Broken by the games that you play
Now I'm starting to fall apart by the way
That you never look me in the eyes
Feels like you're always in disguise
Open up 'cause I have nothing more to say

Come on baby tell me why
Why all your love was all a lie
You got my love you got me good
Played my heart I can't deny
I thought that you was something good

To run away I knew I should
Day in and out I scream out loud
I break and shout but you don't hear me

Come on baby tell me why
Why all your love was all a lie
You got my love you got me good
Played my heart I can't deny
I thought that you was something good
To run away I knew I should
Day in and out I scream out loud
I break and shout but you don't hear me

So hard to say
I'm over you
Until today
Still loving you
So confused
Which way to take
Should I follow my heart or let it break

Come on baby tell me why
Why all your love was all a lie
You got my love you got me good
Played my heart I can't deny
I thought that you was something good
To run away I knew I should
Day in and out I scream out loud
I break and shout but you don't hear me

Come on baby tell me why
Why all your love was all a lie
You got my love you got me good
Played my heart I can't deny
I thought that you was something good
To run away I knew I should
Day in and out I scream out loud
I break and shout but you don't hear me
