"Same Plane"

Everywhere I go, it's the same same. And everyone I meet, is on the Same Plane.

The human race is hurtin, can't get a grip. Can't get no feelin'. The clock is steady clickin' while the time keeps right on tickin'. Hours, and days and years away.

Soon the time will come, that the world will come undone. Time is runnin' out for you and me. Don't you know it's a terrible shame. Everybodys on the same damn Plane.(inst brk)

Everywhere I go , it's the same same. And every one i meet. Is on the Same Plane.

Way over Yonder, It's lightning and thunder. Forecast gettin' darker. The forces of evil, are pullin' us under, ther's no way out or around.

Soon the time will come, that the world will come undone. Time is runnin'out for you and me. don't you know it's a terrible shame. Everybodys on the same damn Plane.
