Some days it's hard not to hang my weary head
Darkness can cloud all the vision that I had
So I close my eyes
Knowing you will come

Where is the child who found it easy to believe
Where did the years go
The laughter and the dreams
Somewhere deep inside
They are only hiding
I won't stay the same
I've a reason to believe

I'll rise on the wings of a new day dawning
I'll fly to the dream within my heart that's calling
Lifting me up
Lifting me higher
I'll take to the hope that will rise to meet me
Day after day I'll be closer to heaven
You're lifting me up
I'm living the dreaming here?

I can be strong as I swim against the tide
I can have joy through these tears that I have cried
If you're here with me
I can still believe
You hold my hands and the life that they have made
You hold my dreams
I will never be afraid
I will find my way
To a brighter day
