So many years have come and gone now.
what have you done with your life.
the mirror shows what you used to be, all I see is your misery.
You crawl back in your shell.
But your eyes reveal the hell you've lived through.
When will you finally be yourself.
its already been too long.
Am I a danger to your health,
Did you think that i'd forgotten, when I never left your side (I never left your side).

Baby, you don't have to cry anymore
all the years you've been searching when the one you've been looking for
oh baby you don't have to cry anymore
All the tears will dry, If you let me try pretty baby, pretty baby don't you cry
