SHE'S COMING HOME - written by Darius & Tom Howe

A part of me died
The day that you left
She didn't tell me
No last goodbye
My heart left for dead
Somebody tell

When its closing time
Pick up my broken mind
And the only thing I know
She's my moon and sun

She's the only one
She's the only one
She freed me
And now I'm the lonely one
I'm the lonely one
But I still believe
She's coming home
She's coming home to me
She's coming home
She's coming
She just doesn't know it yet

Black velvet sky
Five miles to go
Wish she was waiting
Too late to cry
Too late for hope
I wish she had waited
I don't understand
Where is the love we had?
The only thing I know
She's my moon and sun

She's the only one
She's the only one
She freed me
And now I'm the lonely one
I'm the lonely one
But I still believe

She's coming home
She's coming home to me
She's coming home
She's coming
She just doesn't know it yet

I think I found the girl who knew
I had to grow
And stand alone
When she's been around the world
I hope she finds the place
She can call home
With or without me

She's the only one
She's the only one
She freed me
And now I'm the lonely one
I'm the lonely one
But I still believe
She's coming home
She's coming home to me
She's coming home
She's coming back you'll see
She's coming home
She's coming home, home
