As i find myself standing here alone
On this grave of illusions i once called home
Like a potential, sarcastical dream of today
Left to become nothing but hate
I'm all dowsed through the flames of pretend
Like a white dove that now turned red

I find you here
In this part of the world
I will come near
I find you here
In this part of the world
I will come near
Near to your soul

As i find myself losing the trust that i gained
On this part of the world that's covered with hate
Like the past that's forgotten and the future that's gone
Left to destroy and leave me in a hole
I'm becoming imune to pretend
Like a white dove that now turned red

Chorus

I hold my eyes
Up, on the skyes
I put the stars in my heart
But all my dreams will fell apart

Prechorus
