Time time, time time

We've got time to climb a mountain
And time to build a wall
By the time we finally build it
The wall's already fallen

But girl, it's me and not time to blame
That you don't have my last name
Let's find the time for love
We need the time for us, yeah

We've got time to cross the oceans
The time to fight a war
By the time we finish fighting
We forgot what we were dying for

So many good have lost their lives
Why can't we put away the knives?
And find the time for love
We need the time for us, yeah

I had a strange feeling
When I held you last night
I could feel you were slipping away
If you give me one chance

I'll make the wrong I've done right
God, give me one more day

Time for love
[Foreign content] just you and me

I'll find the time for love
We need the time for us

I had a strange feeling
When I held you last night
I could feel you were slipping away
If you give me one chance
I'll make the wrong, I've done right
God, give me one more day

I had a strange feeling
When I held you last night
I could feel you were slipping away
If you give me one chance
I'll make the wrong, I've done right
God, give me one more day
