Stone horses on summer sands (love beats the time)
Birds try to fill in the words of every one dead
Sad to say when dawn has come (love beats the time)
The sun and the moon together give a roar

This morning black eyebrows
Frowning, black eyebrows

She looks weary and worn (love beats the time)

Her beauty broke men's hearts through no fault of her own
Sad to say when dusk has come (love beats the time)
The sun and the moon together give a roar

This morning, white eyebrows
Frowning, white eyebrows
Why must this night be so long morning so far away
