Do you walk like a saint when you talk to the sky?
Your angels are mischiefs, unlike you and I
Fall down slowly until you are gone
I'll see you in Hell one day
Where you all belong

And I won't say goodbye
So long, darlings
And I won't say goodbye 'cause it's not worth my time, no

Do you walk like a saint when you make the birds run?
Is it time to get ready for what you have done?
And I have no more questions for myself
And I'll say it again and again and again,
Until it gets into your heads
