maybe your a tree who's leaves stay, or maybe you go where the wind blows, all i know is i'm right either way. every word you spoke was subtle so i never gave you on rebuttal cause somehow i knew you meant what you said.

its like i spoke to you,
its like you spoke to me,
you know we need each other
these things we built could last forever.

Sometimes we watch our heroes die
and we don't know why
and we don't know why they left us so young
Sometimes we watch our mirrors cry
undone.

I've learned that i can live without you.
I've learned that there are things about you which i knew, which i chose to hold in, I've seen your eyes when they're glassed over you chuckled once i lit that fire, desire keeps us holding on tight.

Its like i spoke to you,
its like you spoke to me,
these things we built could last forever.

I am now everything good that you did, i'm tossing out all of the things you kept in,
like the scars on your knuckles the way that you chuckled, when the bottle made way for you and i know you hear me,

Sometimes, we watch our heroes die,
and we don't know why,
and we don't know why that left us
so young.

sometimes we watch our mirrors cry,
and we don't know why,
undone.

why they left us undone,
why they left us undone.
