

Ronnie Day "Self Doubt"

Visit "Self Doubt" on MotoLyrics.com

Iâ€™m knocked down and stepped on,
or maybe I feel strong.
I donâ€™t want to waste my time with Doubting.

Someday Iâ€™m a rock star.
Iâ€™ve got money from my guitar.
I donâ€™t want to waste my time with Doubting.

Iâ€™m a simple boy
with a simple dream
in a complex world
full of complex common themes.

I donâ€™t want to waste my time with Doubting.

Tell me another story about love and about feeling lonely,
so I wont feel so lonely,
so I will feel you know me.
And Iâ€™ll write it down,
Iâ€™ll hide it deep within a song,
so other kids can sing along.
Only then will I belong.

Not a dayâ€™s gone by that I fail to think about the things that I let set sail...
Another cast tale of a doubtful hawk watching mice from atop the stock.
Do you see their rounded ears?
Do you hear the things they hear?
I think not.
Baby, mice and men- they talk a lot

Visit Ronnie Day page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.