The Stranger

They call me stranger
That's what I am
Many places I have seen

I've come from Burlington
Down to L.A.
From the Badlands
Home to Santa Fe

But here I am
Here I stand
See the dawn of day
Tell them all I make my way

I live my life
The way I like
My hair's too long, my hair's too long they say

The sunny days are mine
The rainy, too
Well I don't care about
If it's right or wrong

They say I'm crazy
If that's crazy than it's true
I do know the answer
Why don't you look at you?

Here I am
And me it's here
See the stream of light
Leeds me all the way back through the night

Every town I've been before
Every place it's been the same
I came into trouble
Cause I don't fit into their plan
But now it must be over
Have to stand for what I am

I'm sure there must be anyone
Who loves me for what I am

See me standing here
Head up in the air
So I say it loud
All my dreams I'm screaming out

So if you meet me
Along your way
Don't turn around, don't run away

I'm sure if you know me well
That you will see
My heart, emotions
My love and soul

Cause I'm not the man
That I used to be
I do it my way
And I'm free

So here we are
And here we stand
See the black of night
Let me be your guarding light
