I guess this world
Is offering a lot to see
But the only travelling I do
Is through a cable, lately
I'm having conversations
With microwave meals
It's time to start my life for real

Always, always, always tomorrow
I will do it then
Always, always, always tomorrow
I will do it then

My shoulder should hurt
From jumping off a moving train
That special shirt should at least
Have one curious stain
But I'm making excuses to stay at Home tinkering all alone
My cell phone keeps
My thumb in shape
I'm eating chocolate chip cookies
All day

Always, always, always tomorrow
I will do it then
Always, always, always tomorrow
I will do it then

Travel the seven seas
Say thank you please
Go to the gym
Get fit and slim
Read the news
Learn how to choose
Fix that bike
Do things I like
Shave my legs
Not just the shins
Sort things by colour
Get wiser and taller
Say the right things

At the right time
I'll be in time and on time
Time and time again

But wait a minute
I found beauty in a click
The ding-dong of the pop-up
Was in harmony with the song I hummed
I'm satisfied
I wrote a song about it
I'm satisfied, today
