

Dark At Dawn "Black dream"

Visit "Black dream" on MotoLyrics.com

I have a dream, it's a dream of...
The timeless hours we spent in the blackness of your eyes makes me the silence in spite of your eternal the fire, show me your brightness

Out there, here we stand in the darkness of the night out there, each of us is trying to hide away from light

The endless looks you give will widen horizons, never see the end of them the shadows of reality's gone the bottomless, beyond all boundaries

The coldness of this vacuum the outer space and its fascination the alcohol takes my last discretion and you, black dream, we'll meet again tomorrow

Timeless silence, endless horizons coldness, alcohol,
you are my black dream
