"Perish for beauty"

Trapped in a cage all their lives death is salvation, the last spark of hope in their eyes white God created them all to perish for beauty and colours of arrogance

Lack of emotion for life the hands of their hangmen are grabbing with hard grip of death screaming in wildness and pain no chance to escape, executed for mankind's survive
Do you want to get rid of it? try to and see you can't flee from your shadow remove now the veil from your eyes crator of horror, you mirror tells truth from your lies
