Pictures of the past memories which never last within a moment's time the blinking of an eye to oblivion they turn and there remain

Chorus 1

When there is nothing I can remember now today all my faults and mistakes will be forgiven Then for me grows a second to day the lifetime of hours

Faster flies a day in seconds years are gone away to minds which can't divide as Lethe's flowing stream future from yester days

Chorus 2

When there is nothing I can remember now today
all my faults and mistakes will be forgiven Then there rises a second today but the lifetime of ours is fading away

The presence of the Now nothing to obey and bow to time noone attends the turning of the clock a circle of no meaning ends
