And sometimes I hear the call
Across this mountain into my soul
And I fear no man now
As darkness comes

And sometimes I know I'll fall
Along this dark and lonely road
This wind of change will guide me home
Through the night to your side again

So hold me never let me go
And we'll ride this storm together
So hold on ...'till I reach the end
I'll find a way, and I'll find you
Where darkness ends

There's a flame inside us all
Where the angels sing their guiding song
I close my eyes and you are here
Across the darkness
In my heart again

So hold me never let me go
And we'll ride this storm together
So hold on ...'till I reach the end
And I'll find you
Where darkness ends

Will you wait for me there my friend
And I'll hold you where darkness ends
